02 / SELECTING TEA

A range for different needs

Start with how you plan to use the tea. Choose a relevant group, test it in your working conditions and confirm the pack specification with Hoàng Long.

Green tea

Compare colour, strength and finish using your intended brewing method. For iced tea, share your tea, water and ice quantities.

Black tea

Compare samples for strength and aroma in your actual recipe. If using milk or fruit, test with your own ingredients.

White tea

Start with the sample brewing guidance, then adjust for your application. Discuss the required grade and leaf specification before ordering.

Scented tea

Select lotus, jasmine or orchid, then evaluate the balance of scent and tea in your brewing method.

Pu-erh tea

Choose cake or piece format. Confirm the weight per unit and number of cakes/pieces; do not convert to kilograms without an agreed unit weight.

Other teas

Discuss your application, grade and packing to select a suitable sample.
